

Announces an Exciting New Partnership with

HRIZONS EX Partners with Growthspace to Transform Employee Experience and Boost Workforce Capabilities Through Personalized Skills Development

Minneapolis, MN, 1 December 2024 – HRIZONS EX, a consulting firm dedicated to enhancing employee experience (EX), is excited to announce a new partnership with Growthspace, an innovative precision skill development platform. This collaboration aims to elevate employee experience and engagement by delivering personalized learning journeys that empower employees to grow and succeed while enhancing and scaling organizational capabilities and productivity.

With employees increasingly seeking purpose, growth, and connection in their workplaces, this partnership enables HRIZONS EX to leverage Growthspace’s advanced platform to create meaningful, customized development opportunities. By combining Growthspace’s AI-powered technology with HRIZONS EX’s expertise in employee experience strategies, the partnership is set to transform how organizations engage their people and foster a supportive, growth-focused culture.

“At HRIZONS EX, we believe that when employees are engaged and growing, they bring their best selves to work. Our partnership with Growthspace aligns with our commitment to delivering an exceptional employee experience, which in turn drives overall business success,” said Mary Poppen, President, HRIZONS EX. “With Growthspace’s capabilities, we can offer our clients scalable, data-driven development solutions that resonate with each employee’s unique goals, ensuring they feel valued, supported, and invested in.”

Growthspace’s platform provides employees with access to a global network of coaches and mentors, matched to meet each employee’s individual development needs and goals. This targeted approach to learning not only enhances skill-building but also fosters an environment where employees feel more connected, engaged, and invested in their growth within the organization.

“Today’s workforce expects more than just a job; they seek meaningful growth experiences.” said Omer Glass, CEO, Growthspace. “Our partnership with HRIZONS EX brings together technology and human insight to equip individuals with the precise skills they need, helping companies build a workforce that’s ready for tomorrow’s challenges.”

HRIZONS EX will work with Growthspace to ensure that clients can implement these development solutions seamlessly, driving strong engagement and delivering measurable improvements to employee satisfaction and retention. The partnership will provide organizations with actionable insights that show the direct impact of an engaged and highly skilled workforce on company performance.

For more information about the HRIZONS EX and Growthspace partnership, please contact:

Paul Howard

Director, Sales and Business Development

HRIZONS EX

paul.howard@hrizons.com

647 883 1410

About HRIZONS EX

HRIZONS EX is a consulting firm committed to advancing employee experience by delivering solutions that foster engagement, development, and alignment with clients' strategic goals. Through expertise in HR technology and people analytics, HRIZONS EX helps organizations create supportive, growth-oriented work environments that drive satisfaction and performance.

About Growthspace

Growthspace is a leading precision skill development platform that enables organizations to drive personalized learning and development at scale. By leveraging AI and a global network of 2500+ global experts across 80+ skill sets, Growthspace delivers impactful development experiences that enhance employee engagement, productivity, and performance in their roles.